The Dark Wild is the second in Piers Torday's excellent Last Wild series and for me it was just as gripping and exciting as the first novel. Our hero of the story is Kester, a twelve year old boy who cannot speak but manages to communicate with animals and this leads him to save the last few remaining species on the planet.

"After gathering together the Last Wild, the last animals still alive, Kester Jaynes is faced with a new task--facing the Dark Wild, the animals who live underground and want to destroy humankind"--

"A hugely inventive adventure." --Eoin Colfer, New York Times bestselling author of the Artemis Fowl series In a world where animals are slowly fading into extinction, twelve-year-old Kester Jaynes feels as if he hardly exists either. He’s been locked away in a home for troubled children and is unable to speak a word. Then one night, a flock of talking pigeons and a bossy cockroach come to help him escape, and he discovers that he can speak to them. And the animals need him. Only Kester, with the aid of a stubborn, curious girl named Folly, can help them survive. The animals saved Kester. But can he save them? "When ninety-nine pigeons smash through the windows of Kester's prison and carry him North to the last of the animals... it's a moment as thrilling as when James flies off in the Giant Peach. Highly recommended" --The Times (UK) "Combines a great fondness for animals with an appreciation of the freakish... The reserved narrative tone and tender yet peculiar view of animals give this piece its own offbeat flavor." --Kirkus Reviews "Alternately somber, thrilling, and silly." --Publishers Weekly
